“ We had the privilege of meeting you at Katie and Josh's wedding. My thoughts go out to you and your family and friends. I'm sorry I am not there to celebrate your life, I look forward to making a toast to your memory with Josh and Katie. Also, apparently same day delivery does not mean Sunday 😞 So, I was thinking of you as I picked these from the garden...PS: I will try to keep an eye on Josh for you. Our best regards, Jeff Nystrom, (Max, Mallory, and Katie).

“ My Brother Andy Swicegood was a devoted man and Mason of integrity and deep ritual cognizance. He will be sorely missed in the lodges we shared as brothers in the craft. Andy was always sought after to participate in Masonic degree work and lodge administrative functions. His crisp verbal diction and ritualistic perfection will be remembered in the minds of his cherished Brothers as his characteristic hallmark. The trials and tribulations he endured here on earth are behind him now. May the Supreme Architect of the Universe receive and welcome Brother Andy into the celestial lodge above.

“ Andy was a dear friend of ours. We got to know him through the Swicegood Reunion here in NC. We were in charge of the reunion and for several years he came to N.C. and acquired a large amount of genealogy for his records. Andy was a sweet man and we really enjoyed having him come to our reunions. He called me a couple of months ago to tell me he was getting married. I hope someone in the family will continue his legacy and continue the Swicegood Genealogy. We are going to miss working with him on this cousin or that cousin. Our condolences to all the family of Andy. Our prayers are with you!

I had the privilege of knowing Andy since the late 80's and like so many others before and after me, my career benefited greatly through the training and mentoring I received from Andy throughout the years. Andy is the true namesake of "The Silent Warrior". Most of his contributions to the security of this great nation will remain untold. Our nation thanks you. Rest in Peace my friend. #BravoZulu

Andy not only mastered our craft, but selflessly imparted it on everyone he touched. His old school approach is a lost art. You didn't walk away from a conversation with Andy without knowing more than when you began. Our deepest condolences to his blessed family. RIP Andy.

Andy, you were always smiling when I saw you around the office, no matter what crazy thing was going on at the time. Your tremendous positive attitude, your kindness to all, and your deep love for our work were a genuine inspiration. Thank you for that.

May God receive you in love, and may He be a help and comfort to all who mourn. RIP.
