“ I would like to say a few things about my brother. First and foremost, he was a good guy. He was married to the same woman for 65 years, raised a family and was never in any trouble; quite the opposite from me.

We had our ups-&-downs, as all siblings do, but there was a bond there (sometimes unseen). An example is that after his health went down, I was once helping him get dressed and he said he wanted to wear a grey shirt. So I looked in his closet and there were several grey shirts hanging there (I had to smile). If one will look in my closet I also have several grey shirts. I never knew he liked grey; it must be something in the DNA. But in some ways we were opposites. He was great with numbers & I'm terrible with them. We were once reporting some elections returns and at times he was faster adding totals in his head than the people using calculators. At the end of the broadcast I turned to him and said, "Bob you've got a calculator for a brain," he just smiled. I remember the ballgames we broadcast together on Big WOFE Radio and I'm thankful for each & every one I did with him.

Did Bob have his faults? Of course he did, like all people. As far as I know only one perfect man has ever walked on this earth; and we should all try to be more like Jesus. But I can say that Bob had more good traits than bad ones; again an area where we were opposites.

He is gone and I will miss him, as will others. The last time we sat and talked it was a good conversation. I wish I had more time with him and more conversations. I'll finish this as I started, "He was a good guy."

“ I was so sorry to hear about the loss of my friend, Bob. He was my supervisor for many years. My wife is from Rockwood where he announced the Friday night football games. After she retired, we made many trips to Rockwood, and I was always trying to see if anyone knew where he lived so I could find him and talk to him. I was never able to run into him down there. He was a really good friend to me. I am sorry for your loss.
