“ My dad was the strength of our family. It breaks my heart to see his obituary on here because that means he’s really gone. He was our number one fan and always supported us in everything we did. He taught us all how to play basketball and passed on his love of the game to us all. He showed us love and respect every day and loved my mom and his kids like no other. As traumatic and tragic as his death was to me and my family, he will be in my heart always because in my heart his memory and influence on my life will live forever! Our lives will never be the same again because he’s gone and what we had together as a family was more special than words could ever express. He was the best dad in the world and the greatest grandfather who told us the funniest stories, prayed with us at meals, and gave us all nicknames that we will cherish forever. You are with God now and knowing that he has his arms wrapped around you is the only way we can go forward. Love you dad with my whole heart and thanks for giving us the best life ever! High Pockets and Belle will miss you everyday from now on and I will too!! Thanks for treating Dave like a son and for letting Mable ride in your red truck! We love you to the ends of the earth!
