That's really sweet! I didn't know her personally but you guys have my deepest condolences. No parents should ever have to bury a child.

“ There are no words to be said that will ease your pain or mend your broken hearts. Shane and I pray that God will comfort you and guide you in the days to come. To be absent from the body is to be present with the Lord. So today I would like to imagine that Bree, healthy, happy, pain free and with a smile bigger than we have ever seen is watching over you all while holding her little brother, with Maura by her side. Unfortunately we are selfish and want to keep our loved ones close forever but we all are only passing thru this life and we can all be thankful because of Gods promise it isnt goodbye but just a "I'll see ya later." Hold tight to each other and Gods grace is sufficient. He will see you thru. She will forever be with everyone who knew her and thru those memories you have of Bree she will live on for years to come.
We love you all and may God keep and comfort you
