“ You always had a laugh that was contagious.

“ You were one of those with a pure, servant heart. No matter how busy you were, if someone needed help you were there in a flash. You always could find a reason to smile and laugh in spite of what kind of day you may have had.
My family has sweet memories of all the good times. Thank you for being a part of our lives and for being our "Uncle Charlie".

“ Rob and Tyler and Travis and I have some sweet memories of Charlie. He was always congenial and we knew that if we were ever in need of help, no matter how far away, we could call Charlie and he'd be on his way. He was just that kind of man--kind and compassionate and selfless.

“ We had our good times. A yellow rose, fresh and fragrant from yard. The early morning Misti was born I can still see you sitting there bearded, weary and happy, oblivious to everything but her as you held her for the first time.

Making jelly and fresh creamed corn. Driving 20 hours round trip on weekends to be able to spend a little time with your family. Driving trips across the country when you were always willing to stop or take little side trips, not as much in a hurry to get there as to enjoy the trip. You were a good man, Charlie Cox. The world is a better place because you walked through it.

“ Charlie was one of the nicest person I've known. He was a great brother in-law . He had faults but who doesn't .

I will miss him and his quick wit and infectious smile. He had a heart of gold. See you later bro
