“ Dear Rebecca, Jessica, and Lance,
We are praying for you. It was quite an emotional blow to hear of David's passing. It brought back many mostly good memories. We miss him very much. Seems impossible that he is gone. David and I grew up together, worked together, played golf together, went to church together. We prayed together. We know you all loved him even more than we did. Thanks for all you did for David. We love you all,

“ Dear Rebecca, Jessica and Lance,
We were shocked to hear about David's death. Did you know that David was the first person that we went to tell the news when Len proposed to me in 1973? We were very pleased when he married you and then added Jessica to our family. We hope that you and Jessica have a strong arm to lean on with Lance there. Please call us if you need us for anything. We love you although distance has kept us apart. Love always, Pam and Len

“ I knew David many years but hadn't seen him in recent times. We went into the Air Force just days apart. I remember his love for his huge old Chrysler and how we teased him about it. Richard and family, we know he has gone on to a far better place.

“ *David was Best Man at my 1st wedding Nov.28, 1972. He was a dear friend to my ex-husband Michael. I'm so sorry for your loss, Rebecca and Jessica. I know that you love him more than words can ever say. His soul is free to play among the stars now. “ Rebecca: We always think we will see one another again and somehow that notion slips away because of this circumstance. I loved David and have wondered on more than one occasion why we were not close as we were when David had returned from Vietnam. Even as we drifted apart, we each held the esteem of respect of each other and their families...dear to our heart...David expressed to me each time I spoke with him of his confidence to having the correct relationship with his Maker and that those things were okay in his book. As it is okay with David, it is okay with Philip and one day we will see one another once again for eternity. What an exciting absence of time that will be. We love you....Flip....
