“ I will forever treasure my memories of visiting Tennessee and listening to you and Grandma Virgie tell story after story and laugh. Every visit included a wonderful southern meal of green beans, cornbread and banana pudding. I'm thankful for being able to visit you as recent as last summer where we shared some laughs and hugs. The Owens family has been reunited. I love you.

“ I'll remember Aunt Eva most for her laughter between she and her sister (my grandma) and their shared love for cooking. Every visit we were treated to green beans, cornbread and banana pudding. What a treat. The Owens siblings are all together celebrating in Heaven. So thankful I was able to visit with Aunt Eva just last summer.

“ Jim, Roger and Bill,

So sorry to hear of Aunt Eva's passing. She was the last of the Owens sisters and brothers and they are finally all together. I know the past couple years have been difficult as they were with Maude also. I have nothing but fond memories of Eva especially when she would come up north here to visit. May she rest in peace.

“Cherie Tucker and I started visiting Eva after Jerry Shaw moved away. She was a sweet, cheerful lady and we enjoyed our times spent with her. Not too long ago I discovered that Eva was one of the first people to welcome us to Kingston; it was in 2007 & we visited Central Baptist Church where she was attending. When she found out we were looking for a house, she urged us to buy the house next door to her; to have her want to have us for neighbors made us feel so welcome. We ended up with a house with more space outside the city, but she would have been a great neighbor. She is rejoicing in the presence of the Lord, free of pain but will be missed by all who knew and loved her.

“I remember going to visit Eva. My mother (Jerri Shaw) and Sue Laws would visit Eva in her home and later in the nursing home. She was such a sweet lady. Had such a gentle way about her. She always liked to talk about her children and grandchildren. She was proud of her family. She is resting in Heaven right now.
