“ Sherry,
So sorry to hear of Glen's passing when I returned from Christmas travel. A great work friend and better old car buddy.
May God help you through this difficult time.

“ Sherry,

May God soothe your broken heart. One of my favorite memories is seeing Glen pull up in his truck to pick you up at work to head out for a marvelous vacation . . . both of you with big excited smiles on your faces. The love that you two had for each other was obvious; and you have earned stars in your crown for continuing to honor that love and caring for him long after he was not able to reciprocate. Sorry I was not able to attend the visitation; but we will get together soon for lunch and talking over memories.

Love,
Jerrie

“ Sherry, and family, I remember so well what a sweet and kind man Glen was. When he was well, in the earlier days, he came to my parent's home and fixed the stairs to accommodate Dad's failing health. I know how much you loved, and committed to him. I'm sorry for your pain. Seems I also remember that this is your birthday week..my sweet momma also died on my birthday.In a way, they are honoring us.

Praying you will feel God carrying you close as you grieve. June Murphy
