“ Greg was a good friend of mine back in school. He always had a great sense of humor and never seemed to get mad at anything. May God bless you all and heal your broken heart.

“ Gregg was a gentle soul. When I visited him recently in the hospital he gave me a strong handshake and a reassuring smile, he was generous to a fault and always there for his many friends and family. Gregg, friends, and I spent much of our youth in Dickie Valley and Sugar Grove Valley and the people and the places is what shaped us. Gregg loved the farm in Sugar Grove Valley and spent many hours mowing paths across it even to the top of the ridge where you could get a glimpse of the Smoky Mountains in the distance. Gregg liked to drive the Jeep to the top of the ridge in the evenings and watch the sun set on the horizon, it was a good place to talk about old times and contemplate good times yet to be had. I will sorely miss my good friend but know he is in a better place free from pain and suffering. Like lyrics from the song 1952 Vincent Black Lightning I'll guess he saw “Angels on Ariels in leather and chrome swooping down from heaven to carry him home”.

“ Gregg and I grew up together. We had a lot of fun playing GI Joe's and catching snakes along the creek. I still remember those days very well. His sweet Mother would fix some really good meals when I would spend the night. Gregg will be missed greatly.

“ Gregg was a good friend of mine. I remember all of the bonfires at his house and mine,it was a good time. When I had some property down in middle Tennessee,Gregg would come out and stay at my house and take care of my dogs and horses. I would also run into him at butlers grocery store and restaurant when I was on my way to work. I went down to Gregg's house a few months ago when he seemed to be doing good. I am so glad I went down to see him. I also ran into him a few times at cancun's in Oak Ridge when going out to eat. He will be missed by all and if I am able I will be at the funeral home Saturday. The family will be in my prayers,just know that he is in a better place with no more suffering and pain. "Willie"

Greg came to my papaws my whole life from the time I was a kid. Always such a nice guy. I ran into him at Gondoliers a couple of months ago and talked to him for a while. It seemed like he was doing better. He was still the same, always smiling and happy. He will be remembered by everyone I know that same way. Frankie Hawn
