“ Found my biological father's obituary last week. Was stunned to find out that he passed. I never met him but had always had questions, especially health related, about him. Jerry had two children with his first wife. There is Jerry Warren Brock, Jr my brother and myself. My brother was born in 1969 and I was born in 1971. Our father abandoned us and our mother when we were babies. We were adopted by our current father when we were in grade school. No one has ever been able to find Jerry Senior until his obituary was found on the internet. We tried for years to find him. If anyone can share some information I would appreciate it. My brother and I would like to know if we have any siblings out there and about his health and where he had been. I can be contacted at sharicpscap@aol.com. All I want is information I am not trying to take money from someone who never had any.

“ Polly,

Wish I could have been there with you but my heart & love is there with you always. When you lose a loved one who is also your best friend it is so hard to let them go but when it comes to Jerry you have wonderful memories that will always be yours to cherish. He is with the Lord now and in no more pain. We will miss him very much. I love you so much and if you need anything give me call and If you want to get away for awhile my doors are always open for you sis. We love you and support you through this heartbreaking time.

Love you Always,

Betty and Charlie

“ Aunt Polly,

I am so very sorry for your loss. Uncle Jerry was a great man who loved and adored you very much! He was exceptionally kind and caring towards everyone and always spoke nicely of others, especially you and his grandchildren. I trust that he is Heaven now as the Angel he was and will always be watching over you, his one true love as he told me before. He also told me (the last time you two visited) that he felt very blessed to have you as his wife and he is a very lucky man. I know you two shared a love that was so beautiful and true. Memories are now what are to be cherished and the thought of him will always remain in our hearts. We all love you and are here for you through these difficult times.

I love you Aunt Polly!

Love always,

Brandi

“ Polly, we are all just so sorry about Jerry's passing. We know that nothing we could say or do can make things right for you at this time, but please know we love you and are praying for all of you. We had a lot of good times with Jerry and you and will cherish all those wonderful moments we spent with the two of you. We will see Jerry again, and though we can't now, it is something to look forward to down the road a ways. God bless you and the grandchildren.
