“ I miss and love you so much Nanny. I made so many mistakes in life and hurt loved ones so deep the wounds still aren't mended. But my Nanny never turned her back on me. She always pushed me to want more and want better for myself than the life I had lived. She encouraged me to take the road less traveled and to think not just outside the box...but to think outside of it and dance and do cartwheels on top of it as well... She wanted us to always dance to our own beat and never be fearful of the things unknown. She taught me the best lesson in life I retained as a child..."you should never be afraid of the dark. Because there is nothing in the dark that isn't there when you turn the lights back on."

When I didn't have a mother present in my life, Nanny was the person who filled that position for me. Loving me unconditionally when no one else made it seem possible. My nanny was hands down, the best woman I have ever met. And although I am gonna miss her to no end, I know she is so much happier where she is now...in heaven with the love of her life (my papaw Cooper), her oldest son (Reece), and her adopted daughter (Debbie). It also brings me comfort and joy to know that my baby boy (Ashton) now has his great grandmother there with him to hold him till his mommy can come be with him again one day.

That being said, Nanny I love you and I miss you so much each and every day. I hope you loved every second of your life and miss us as much as we all do you. Smile down on us from time to time and wait patiently cuz we will see you again one day.

Love always

Your baby granddaughter
