“ My son called me late last night and Informed me of Aaron's passing. My son was in tears and choking with emotion. My thoughts rushed back to Aaron's infectious smile and friendliness, especially when he was younger. I wish I could have helped you my Brother, any friend of my son is and always will have a space in my heart. I will try to remember your children during this hard time.

“ Aaron lived a hard life but always loved the ones closest to him. He was a proud soldier who served overseas, a friend who would give anyone the time of day regardless of if they had something to offer him or not. As sarge he was a machine behind the drum & bass mix and would best just about anyone who stepped against him on the decks. I will miss you sir.

Jonathan Harris - March 17, 2020 at 06:45 AM

“ I always knew him as Aaron. I traveled two counties to meet him face to face. He was my partner, freind, brother, and rival. There never be another like him.

Jonathan Mendes - March 17, 2020 at 06:32 AM

“ Too many memories, I haven't seen him in a while but. He was a brother. I will cherish the memories and always love him.
