“ *Pat was a good teacher who cared about her students. She taught both of our boys. Her husband was principal of Midtown in the 1960s
When I attended school there. Between the two scholars they touched many lives. RIP Ms Estes. Prayers for the family.*

“ Mrs. Estes wore glasses that darkened in the sunlight, so our Senior year McDonalds was offering in the kids meal Walt Disney character sunglasses. So our class went and bought Happy meals so that on Homecoming practice, we would all look like Mrs. Estes. Not sure to this day if she appreciated that, but she was a super teacher....demanding, but always wanted us to learn. From Alice in Wonderland, Darlene Bowers Prewitt, HHS Class of 1981, saying Thank you Mrs. E!

“ I’ve known Pat since I was a little girl and taught with her for several years. The one thought I have tonight is that Pat is at peace. No more problems or worries, no more fears. She fought a brave fight, and she has won. Rest In Peace.
