“ We will always cherish the very fond and fun memories of going to our cousins house when we were kids growing up. My sister Robin and I loved to visit whenever we came up to Tennessee from GA. and couldn't wait to go see Kay, Angie, and Lil Ronnie. We shared many smiles, laughter, and lots of good times back in those days playing games and especially outside, we all got along great. I will never forget how happy they always were, especially Lil Ronnie to see us. He always had a big smile & a hug for his cousins and loved to make us laugh. I'm sorry we didn't get to visit much once we moved to Florida and as we all got older. You are forever in our hearts, love your cousin Deede.

“ I remember seeing a photo taken of Ronnie, with Kay & Angie sitting on the kitchen floor; about 2 years old; three beautiful innocent children that I love. A few years later I remember going by to pick him up for my visitation time. Sometimes he wouldn't come out or he just wasn't there. So I had no choice than to do this many times. I don't believe a parent should force visitation on children; was very sad times. But the times that he was there to pick up, I was very happy just to see him; & made every minute of that visit count as best I could. I was thankful for it; & also since I missed his graduation. So, so much more...I hope & pray that I'll get to set down with him on the other side & get caught up, and or get reacquainted. In Jesus's Name, Amen.

“ Rest easy daddy. I wish I had gotten to experience more memories with you, but I am happy with the ones that I have. I remember you trying to scare me and flipping your eyelids up and acting like a zombie lol. I was so scared but it was so fun and you laughed and laughed lol. I remember you taking me to eat and then to get an Easter basket. Any of my choosing. That was the best day ever! I will forever remember those times. I love you!

Emily, thank you for your ever-devotion to Ronnie; no matter what-or-how much, or how little time you got to spend with him: you remained content to be a loving daughter, always. Amazing; to accomplish; waiting patiently, desiring your next opportunity to visit with your father. Unlimited in possibilities for making differences in meanings & change on this, or the next side of heaven. What a witness; & what a cross to bear. Thank you for your consistencies & commitments; that kind of love is without borders. I'm sure Ronnie is now fully aware & blessed by these-your actions/ love. Thank you also for your 3 beautiful children: 1 daughter; & two sons---our great-grandchildren.

Jennifer, I also believe that your mom & dad got to see each other again at the Pearly Gates. I'm glad you got to speak with him before he left this world. I'm also so glad that you have a loving husband & family. I'm glad you likewise have happy memories. I hope these can & will help you know Peace through the grief, & when other times bring back memories.

“ Once Lil' Ronnie cane from behind me as I was washing dishes; he hugged me & said, "thanks for teaching me...I'm gonna need you to keep doing that"...he never blushed again when I was talking with him; & even as we were welcomed in his home with Kim & Jennifer: we were able to look one another 'straight' in the eye. We visited Emily's home many times, & spoke with Kim many times, & enjoyed their company very much. Ronnie was loved & will be missed. I also know that Papaw Houston was waiting to tell him how thankful he was to have his respect-&-love, & with Ronnie being willing to give up everything he had, in order to be able to serve as one of Papaw's pall bearers at his funeral. Granny Callie always 'made over' on Ronnie when he visited her...& he woud blush again, then he would grin with his big smile...& making everyone else smile also. Always, & no matter what was-or-had gone on: Ronnie never lost his capacity in finding his shyness-& -gentleness...& which was / is just like his Father, Ronald H.

“ We were always together growing up side by side. If you were in trouble , I was too! If some kid in the neighborhood picked on you , I picked back!!

You were there when I needed you . One memory stands out the most . My first child was born and I was a single mom with a baby that hadn't slept in 3 days . You came in after working and held that baby for 12 hours straight while I slept. Another memory was when my daughter had some complications with serious surgery , you drove to Nashville to be there and took me to the chapel and prayed with me for healing ❤️🙏. I will always love you little brother and forever in my heart 💜

“ When I first met & got to know 'lil' Ronnie over 40 years ago, I remember that he had bright beautiful eyes; he was quiet much of the time; he blushed fairly often when you were talking to him; then suddenly he would break out with the most beautiful smile! Also he served wonderfully & so respectfully as one of the Attendants, to help our families' safely to their seats; & while Kay & Angie served with beauty-&-grace as two of my 3 Bridesmaids. Thank you all.
