“ Samantha and I met when I first started going to church in coalfield and became one of my dearest friends. I remember plenty of slumber parties whether at her house or mine. We laughed til we cried every time we were together. We had lost touch over the years but I will truly miss her. She was definitely a light in the dark world!!!!

“ I am truly heartbroken about Sam. We only grew to know each other over a few months but boy did she make an impact on me. Her smile and love for others kept me looking forward to seeing her daily at Lexus. She trained me when I got hired on and we became closer everyday. She looked forward to seeing me every morning and was so invested and supportive of me in only 5 months! Bless Sam’s heart, her sweet soul and sweet spirit will truly be missed. Oh how I will miss you. I’m am so thankful that she was able to spend her last few days enjoying Gatlinburg with her mom. She told me all about there plans before they went, while they were there, and when she came back. She convinced me to go checkout Parrot Mountain, where her and her mom went, and I told her I would and let her know how I like it this weekend when I go! Unfortunately she won’t be able to hear my experience but I will hold her experience close to my heart and keep my word to go visit Parrot Mountain just for Sam. Here is the picture she shared with me that weekend while she was on vacation with her mom just a week ago. I will hold this and cherish this sweet lady forever. Thank you so much Sam for you endless support, your kind spirit & contagious heart. Im definitely going to miss you coming around saying “Hey Sweets, how was your weekend” or “Hey hun, was the report okay for you” and of course “Have a good weekend Chica see ya Monday”! Gone too soon, you will be missed!

Tierra, God sure has a way of say "I've got this". I have been trying for days to get into her phone so I could share this photo of these birds all over her. She loved it. I hope you have as great a time as she did. She sure did care a lot about you. You were a blessing to her. Thank you for that. Sherri

“Oh Sam, I am going to miss you. I can't believe that you're gone. It doesn't seem real at all. Though we are all incredibly sad down here, I know you are pain free in Heaven, having a good ole time with Papaw. I'm jealous of you for that ;) I love you bunches and I know I didn't tell you enough. Going to miss cutting up with you at family get togethers, but I know we'll all celebrate together again soon enough.

Miss & love you sweet girl - Kel

**Posting this pic because I've always loved it & thought it deserved a spot on your tribute wall* ;)*

“ I was very saddened to hear the news of Samantha Justice's passing. I attended high school with Samantha in the mid and late 1990's, as she was a few years behind me in grade. However, we had a few classes together, and I always remember her as sweet, loving, caring, and giving. Everyone that Samantha met instantly liked her because of her personality and the warmth and sincerity she conveyed. I had not seen Samantha in 26 years, but I have no doubt that she was still the same sweet girl that she was in high school. She was taken early from this world, but in the short time she was here, she left an indelible mark on the hearts of all who knew her. Although she is absent in body, she is still very much present in heart and spirit. My thoughts and earnest prayers are with her family and loved ones during this tremendous loss. May her precious spirit rest in eternal peace.

“ Samantha and I went through all grades of school together and graduated with one another so I knew her very well. She was always by far one of the most caring and sweetest people I knew. It is shocking to find out that she passed away. Samantha and her entire family were always so warm and kind to me. I want to offer my condolences to them and let them know they will be in my prayers.

“ Samantha loved going to the movie theatre. She knew what she wanted to watch so it wasn't an invite to go to the movies, it was an invite to go to a specific movie on a specific date. I will definitely miss those invites.
