“ I will always remember Randy's prayers at church. I told him once how much I loved them and he responded "I'm just talking to the Lord". No doubt, he loved the Lord. His church family loved him and we will miss him more than I can put into words. My heartfelt condolences.

“ Working with Randy at times, became comical. He would crack me up. He always had a smile on his face. He worked hard to get where he was. Found love with a co-worker named Cindy. Loved Carrie (Cindy's daughter). Always said he was surrounded by these beautiful blond smart women that became his family. He would say Cindy has a warm inviting relationship with all her family and stayed connected. There was always an event that had food...whether being at her parents, a church function or one of those many family picnics. I know his memories will carry on in their hearts of the loved ones he left behind. Robin Castleberry
