“ I will always remember playing with Tony on the hill on Cannon Avenue as children. Tony could could fling a baseball from deep in the corn all the way to home plate like magic. Jim and I spent our summers with Tony, Susan and Cathy at the lake, playing ball and riding our bikes all over town -- what a great way to be a child. Tony was a great friend and always had fun, whatever we were doing. I know he's having fun now, probably chasing the ball deep in the corn and getting ready to fling it home. The ball and cornfield are in East Tennessee, and, yes, it is heaven. John(ny) Morris, Rochester, Minnesota.
