“ *Reality bites.
Yestersday going to Church it still didn't seem real. Seeing your fresh covered grave,it still didn't seem real. Not my Aunt Tiny,She's not suppose to die. She is going to live forever or so I thought.When I come around the corner who's going to be there for me to argue with. We had our own way of communicating. It was fun and it was suppose to last my lifetime.
I miss you "BLONDIE" xoxoxoxoxoxoxoxoxox*

“ Darlene, Please know that my thoughts and prayers are with you and your family. I have never walked in the shoes you are now walking in but I can say that like you my heart would be broken. I know without a doubt, as Mother's do, that she knew you loved her. May God's blessing be upon your and your family during this time and may his loving arms be wrapped around you tightly so you will not forget that he is there.

With love in friendship and Christ, Elaine

“ Hey you beautiful thing. Just as always, I know you are in heaven glowing like a diamond. I don't think I ever realized just how beautiful you were until it was too late to tell you. I know a lot of people didn't know or understand you, but your children knew you and loved you for being you. You lived life to the fullest and no one can judge you for that, not even me, which I have done a lot. Now I sit and say to myself, boy I was wrong, Mama lived her life like everyday was going to be her last. You never worried what people said or how they felt about you. You were definitely "unique" there will never be another one like you! I never made it to "Cotton Eyed Joes" with you but just for you "County road take me home to a place where I belong, West Virginia, Mountain Mama take me home, take me home! I love you more than I could ever tell you.
